The Government have also taken measures to bring down the price of raw jute. These are with a view to allow the jute goods to be competitive against other alternatives like HDPE bags.

Delayed utilisation of commitments of World Bank assistance may arise due to a number of reasons including project related factors such as availability of counter-part funding, environmental and other mandatory clearances, unanticipated cost savings and technical problems. The undisbursed balance as on 31st March, 1990 totalled $ 11.7 billion.
